DEPOT ALMOST 'A MEMORY' AS COUNCIL AXES

Around the Square

QUESTION - OF - THE - WEEK DEPARTMENT: What local citizen offered the bulldozer operator $100 last week to work in too close and "accidentally" knock over the old PE depot?

We don't know who the person was, but our source of information was very close to the proverbial horse's mouth. It is reported that "several" other attractive offers also were made, including one to put up $200 toward the cost of carting away the station.

Our comment: A tongue-in-cheek "hmmmmmm."

Here's a coincidence for you. Two residents of similar last names have the same street numbers on Sierra Madre boulevard. One of the families, H. C. Woodward, resides at 522 E. Sierra Madre boulevard; the other, the P. R. Woodworths, lives at 522 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

Police officers are notoriously "cut and dried" in writing their case reports. Once in a while, however, you see a departure from the usually tersely-written bulletins.

Officer James C. Heasley became downright "elegant" in his account Saturday of escorting a hobo out of town. His report:

"The globe-trotting moocher was finally located traveling east on Sierra Madre boulevard, where he was instructed that a ride in the police car awaited him, going in his direction.

"With all the politeness of a king's courier, the bewhiskered nomad stepped high into the chariot of the police. He stated that he had searched and searched for a position of labor only to be cast aside by property owners of our fair city. Because he disclosed a knowledge of our neighboring metropolis, he was taken to the city limits of Arcadia."

Utilities, City Act To Remove Poles

A "pole-less" business area is in store for Sierra Madre, in accordance with action being taken by the City Council and California Water and Telephone Company.

The utility company plans to remove all its phone poles between Montecito to below Sierra Madre boulevard on Baldwin, and from Baldwin west to Hermost—or possibly even to the Woman's Clubhouse—on Sierra Madre boulevard.

Glen B. Watson, city director of public works, said Southern California Edison Company also plans to remove all its poles in this area.

Mr. Watson said the telephone company is working with this end in view and hopes to have its wires off these streets "within the next few months."

According to Councilman Noren Eaton, the council has informally agreed to reconstruct the curb in front of Pickett's Service Station, closing the driveway approximately 15 feet to the west, so an anchor can be placed there and the existing pole removed.

The council also is planning to have a white stripe painted down the center of Baldwin from Orange Grove to Grandview, and a double stripe down the west side of Baldwin to mark the storm drain.

Crosswalks, speed-limit signs and parking stalls also will be painted on the streets, it was said.

PSSSSST! SCHOOL STARTS SEPT. 13

Er-uh, we hate to bring up a touchy subject but the school bells will toll again on Thursday, Sept. 13, at Sierra Madre City School.

Although that's when actual classes begin, Superintendent Charles A. Skutt said registration for new pupils will be conducted during the first week of September.

But relax, kids, you still have four more weeks of summer vacation.

ARC FLOOD FUND STILL SHORT $390

Sierra Madre's local appeal was renewed this week as the national quota for American Red Cross aid to the Kansas flood area was nearly doubled.

Because of a doubling of the estimated expenditures in helping families in the devastated area, ARC officials say more than $9,000,000 must now be raised. The original goal was $5,000,000.

Sierra Madre's quota now is $700 instead of $500, and the local Chapter House reported Monday that donations still were far below the needed amount. By late Monday afternoon, $310 had been raised.

Mrs. Florence Peterson, executive secretary of the chapter, urged Sierra Madreans to follow the fund slogan, "Give a disaster dollar to meet human needs."

R. C. Lewis, chapter chairman, said it was "hoped" the rest of the needed money could be donated without having to start a soliciting campaign.

As food for thought for local residents, Mrs. Peterson pointed out that 2360 homes have been destroyed in the flood.

Moral Rebirth Movement Gains Support

The movement started in Sierra Madre last week, calling for a rebirth of Americanism and a return to moral, ethical and spiritual values in public life, has begun to spread.

In Monrovia, the movement is headed by Fred MacGougan, president of the California Water and Telephone Company. In Pasadena, Bruce Reagan, former member of the California Legislature, has made a number of copies of "An American Creed" and is giving them wide distribution. In Arcadia, the local movement is being directed by William Marmion, of the San Gabriel Valley Lumber Company.

President Charles A. Skutt of the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club is running a special supplement in this week's issue of the club bulletin with the "Creed" in full, and a copy is to be mailed to Kiwanis International Magazine.

Harold Roberts of Roberts Market is obtaining a number of copies of "The Creed" and will make them available to customers of his store.

Mail Opened, Checks Stolen At Local Home

Police this week were investigating a case of tampering with U. S. mail delivered to a local home.

Mrs. J. C. Sherer, 32 E. Highland, said she returned home one day last week to find some of her letters strewn on the ground approximately four feet from her mailbox. Two of the envelopes were torn open and empty.

By checking with the persons who sent these letters, Mrs. Sherer learned that one contained a personal check for $32.50 and the other a money order for $47.

Merchants Group Meets Wednesday

Next meeting of the recently-formed Sierra Madre Businessmen's Association is scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 22.

President Harold Stein said the breakfast again will be at the Woman's Clubhouse, beginning at 8 a.m.

D'ARCY HOLDS OPEN HOUSE TODAY IN NEW OFFICES

Dr. Daniel L. D'Arcy, optometrist, is holding "open house" all day today, Aug. 16, in his new offices at 62 W. Sierra Madre boulevard.

The optometrist completed work this week on his new professional suite located in the building formerly occupied by Francis Danielson's Radio and Paint Company.

The roomy quarters include a 23½-foot refracting room, business office, pleasant reception room, and a combination laboratory workshop, training space, and storage room in the rear.

Exterior of the offices is paneled in redwood, with twin brick-encased ivy beds. In the center, a light-green door sets off the attractive office front.

Dr. D'Arcy was his own architect in designing the offices and building front. Cloyd Marshall, of Marshall's Nursery and Flower Shop, selected and arranged the ivy bed, which includes philodendron pertusum, caladium, Arabia and aucuba japonica, Fatshedera, aspidistra lurida, and piggy back plant.

Dr. D'Arcy, a practicing optometrist here for five years, formerly was located in the Sierra Madre Hotel building.

He invites Sierra Madreans to come in today and "look around" during the open house.

Nursery School Takes Vacation

Staff members and children enrolled in the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School begin their annual two-week vacation next Monday, Aug. 20, returning to school Tuesday, Sept. 4.

In announcing the vacation period, Mrs. Marjorie Green, director of the school, also reminds members and friends of the nursery school association that there will be no parent-education program and business meeting in August.

ACTOR, WIFE TO PURCHASE NEWS STAND

Proposed sale of the Sierra News Stand, 15 Kersting Court, was announced this week by Cordelia Jerome, owner.

Purchasing the joint magazine stand and restaurant will be Hank and Dolly Mann of Hollywood. A motion picture actor, Mr. Mann has appeared in numerous films during the past years.

He was one of the original "Keystone Kops" of Mack Sennett, and appeared with Charlie Chaplin in "City Lights." For a few years now, Mr. Mann has been doing free-lance acting, mostly with the Hal Roach Studios.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann have owned and operated two other restaurants, including one on Hollywood's famed Sunset Boulevard. They plan to make their residence in Sierra Madre.

Miss Jerome, who lives at 382 Auburn, has operated the News Stand for four years. She plans to move to San Francisco and make her home with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Volkoff. Asked about possible future business plans, Miss Jeroms replied, "I just want to rest for awhile."

Terms of the sale are expected to go into effect Aug. 28, and the Manns hope to begin actual operation by Sept. 1.

Skunk 'Surgery' Sickens Tenants, Woman Complains

A local woman wants to know if it is against the law for youths to attempt "descenting" operations on skunks. And if not, she asks, why isn't it?

The woman, Ruth Ryan, 363 Sycamore Place, complains that her tenants were made "very ill" last week when two neighbor boys tried the delicate surgery behind their garage.

"Combination of the odor of the ether they used to put the skunk asleep and the odor of

Council to Meet Monday, 7 P.M.

An adjourned meeting of the City Council has been called for 7 o'clock next Monday night, Aug. 20.

The early hour was scheduled since the councilmen will meet jointly with the Recreation Commission at 8 p.m.

LIMA, HIGHLAND ARE NEXT ON STREET REPAIR LIST

Lima and Highland are next!

City Councilmen Tuesday night took action to begin reconstruction work on Lima and Highland.

Two contracts were awarded for the Lima street work. One, for furnishing and laying approximately 1800 feet of pipeline, went to Garnier Construction Company, the low bidders, for a total $4919.

The other contract for repaving approximately 5700 feet of Lima went to the Parker Engineering Company for $28,377.20.

Groundwork also was laid for the repair of Highland avenue. Councilmen authorized the engineering work on Highland from Mountain Trail to Hermosa, although all this area may not be repaved at this time.

Edison Company Remodels Office

Southern California Edison Company is nearing completion of the modernization of its Sierra Madre office.

Robert Green, local manager, said most of the general carpentry and painting work will be completed by the first of next week. Remodeling will include the installation of recessed lights over the front display window, combed plywood panels, an air cooler, new furniture and light fixtures. The office walls and ceiling will be painted a shade of green.

Remodeling of the exteriors of both the Edison Company and Attorney John Fitzgerald offices recently was completed by Owner Mrs. R. A. Pratt.

Businessmen's Letter Tells Depot Background

This letter from the Sierra Madre Businessmen's Association was received by the City Council Tuesday night and expresses much of the background in the depot-triangle planning. It also tells of the formation of the association's triangle development committee, headed by Harold Roberts. Complete text of the letter follows:

Sierra Madre City Council,
Gentlemen:

We who are in business in Sierra Madre are, for obvious reasons, most vitally concerned with the development of the downtown area and particularly the triangle at the intersection of Sierra Madre and Baldwin Avenue which is presently occupied by the old Pacific Electric station.

Our interest is heightened by the fact that beyond the $3000 already voted by your body for the work covered by Mr. C. Jacques Hahn's basic plan, the cost of a building and/or other improvements will have to be borne largely by Sierra Madre's business men and women.

During the past year many public-spirited citizens have given unselfishly of their time and their resources in laying the foundation for the development of the Pacific Electric triangle. They have worked as individuals and they have worked in groups. Their contribution has been great, and certainly it is not the intention of the Association to take away from them one iota of the credit to which they are rightfully due.

Al Morgan, then president of the Chamber of Commerce; Ralph (Pappy) Welch of the Lions Club; and Mrs. Lucile Eaton of the Garden Club were all backed by their organizations in planning for the artistic and utilitarian development of the Pacific Electric triangle. Al Morgan was responsible for initiating the project. "Jack" Hahn, landscape architect and founder of the Garden Club, with his fine engineering plans and layouts probably made the greatest individual contribution of time and work. Manuel

Immediate Action Seen By Merchants' Group

Sierra Madre's PE Depot was relegated to past memories Tuesday evening when City Councilmen voted permission for the Businessmen's Association to remove or dismantle the structure from its present site.

Presumably, the association immediately will start dismantling the building to clear the Kersting Court triangle for future development, unless the Lions Club can offer a feasible plan for moving it to city property by next Monday evening.

Carl Peterson, representing the Lions Club, stopped the council's vote with a plea to let his group move the old station intact to the city water grounds for use by Sierra Madre's Sea Scouts.

The council's action Tuesday merely said the "removal or dismantling" must be done at no city expense, provided there is no liability and that ordinances of the city are observed.

That was the "joker" in the problem so far as the Lions are concerned. Several of the councilmen and Director of Public Works Glen B. Watson expressed the opinion that it would be too costly and impractical to bring the ancient structure up to present city building code regulations.

"The depot can be moved, but it apparently can't be placed anywhere else in Sierra Madre as it is now," stated Councilman Henry Korsmeier. "It wouldn't meet the building code even as a private structure, and certainly the requirements for buildings to be used by youth organizations are even more stringent," he said.

Mr. Peterson remarked that the station building has stood on the main corner of town for many years and could not be in too dangerous a condition.

He said the Sea Scouts (sponsored by the Lions) "desperately" need a meeting place, and indicated that the club probably would be willing to supply volunteer labor and

BISHOP BLOY VISITS CONVENT

Bishop F. Eric Bloy, of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles, made a visitation Monday to the Convent of the Sisters of St. Mary of Church of the Ascension.

The bishop discussed future plans of the Parish School and church here, and conferred with the Mother Superior, Mother Mary Ambrose, C.S.M. Mrs. Bloy accompanied her husband on the visitation trip.

First Week Of Day Camp Ends Friday

Sierra Madre's Summer Day Camp program was in full sway this week, and the first session will end tomorrow, Aug. 17. A full registration of 50 boys and girls was reported.

JOHN E. ODEN
. . . alias Flying Eagle

Children were divided into two age groupings, designated as Indian tribes in keeping with the "Indian Life" theme. The Apaches were youngsters of ages 6 and 7; the Comanches were for campers 8, 9 and over.

Each child was given a real Indian name for the camp, according to Recreation Director John Oden—oops, we mean Flying Eagle.

Boys and girls attending the camp now have the privilege of signing up for next week's camp. New campers (those who have not yet attended) may register today and tomorrow at City School, subject to the limitation of a total 50 children.

Flying Eagle said the campers have been making war bonnets, Indian shirts and dresses, and have even built a teepee on the campsite at the Youth Hut.

Next week's activities will include an excursion to Southwest Museum, a watermelon feed, and swimming on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

LOS JOVENES DANCE CANCELLED

Tomorrow night's scheduled dance of Los Jovenes teenage club has been cancelled, according to Recreation Director John E. Oden.

Because many of the young people of 7th through 10th grades are out of town on vacations, there will be no club dances either this week or next week, Mr. Oden said.

The final dance of the summer will be held Friday, Aug. 31, at the City School cafeteria.

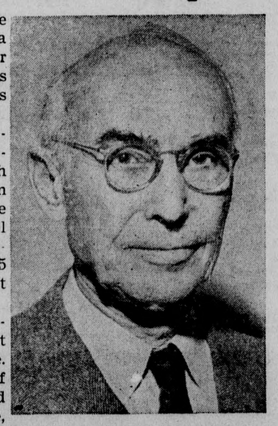

Lions Club Speaker:

Hull to Tell History of Store

Wilbur S. Hull, one of the pioneer businessmen of Sierra Madre, will be guest speaker at the Lions Club meeting this evening, 7:15 at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Mr. Hull will relate the history of the Sierra Madre Hardware Company, a firm which was founded in 1886 and from which he retired as an active partner last year. He will tell the background of the company, from its inception 65 years ago down to the present day.

From point of years of experience, Mr. Hull is the oldest businessman in Sierra Madre. Only one man—the father of Rudolph Hartman — preceded Mr. Hull as a merchant here, but he passed away many years ago.

WILBUR S. HULL

A merchant here for 38 years, Mr. Hull joined the hardware firm in 1912 as a partner with C. W. Jones and C. M. Clark. Mr. Clark was founder of the company.

Program chairman for the evening will be Sid Westfall, also of Sierra Madre Hardware Company.

Engineering Exams At UC Saturday

Engineering qualifying examinations for admission into the Colleges of Engineering on the Berkeley and Los Angeles campuses of the University of California will be given in the engineering building on the Berkeley campus and in Royce Hall at UCLA at 8:15 a.m., Saturday, Aug. 18.

Two examinations are scheduled at each campus—one for lower division (freshman and sophomore) students, and the other for upper division (junior and senior) transfer students.

Cars Collide At Montecito; Woman Hurt

A Sierra Madre woman was slightly injured Sunday afternoon in a traffic collision at Lima and Montecito.

The woman, Mrs. Andrew Jackson Bates, 67 E. Sierra Madre boulevard, a passenger in a car driven by her husband, suffered bruised knees, apparently caused by striking the dashboard. Hysterial at first, Mrs. Bates later told police she was more frightened than hurt.

The other car, entering the intersection from the east, was driven by Raymond George Sievers, 17, 147 W. Grandview. His car was damaged along the right side. The Bates car was damaged on the left fender and bumper.

Both drivers estimated their speeds at between 15 and 21 miles per hour. No citations were issued.

WOMEN FINED FOR PARKING ON WOODLAND

Five dollar fines were levied against two motorists Saturday who parked their cars in the restricted area of Woodland Drive.

Judge John C. Mead warned the violators—both from out of town—of the fire hazard resulting from the narrow streets in the Canyon, pointing out that fire-fighting equipment would be unable to get through with cars parked there.

Paying fines were Misako Ogawa of Pasadena and Hazel Lee Smith of Los Angeles. Judge Mead added a $2 fine on Mrs. Smith's sentence for not having her car registration in plain view. This part of the fine was suspended, however, when Mrs. Smith explained she was in the process of buying a new registration card holder to replace her old broken one.

Local Resident Asks: Are Alcoholics 'Chosen People'

(Editor's Note: Mr. McMillen of 891½ E. Grandview, is a feature article and radio script writer. He proposes for Sierra Madre the formation of a clinic which, applying the principles and methods of Alcoholics Anonymous, would strive to solve other personal problems—problems considered "everyday" in this fast-living civilization. Watch for further articles by Mr. McMillen.)

by W. HENRY McMILLEN

Are Alcoholics a "chosen" people? Startling as the question may seem, listen to this. Fulton Ousler, former Editor of Liberty Magazine, and author of "The Life of Christ," has this to say:

"Alcoholics are the most charming people I have ever met. I have talked to many of the world's greatest leaders . . . heads of nations and heads of religions . . . and of them all, Alcoholics who are making a success of staying sober are by far the most interesting, most gentle, most understanding . . . almost God-like in their outlook on life. It would seem as though they are a chosen people."

Mr. Ousler refers, of course, to those Alcoholics who have become rehabilitated and set upon the right path toward usefulness and respectability again through following the program of that great Alcoholic fellowship which chooses to remain Anonymous. It has been quite some time since I read Fulton Ousler's article, but the challenge it raises has become ever more deeply embedded in my mind.

Are Alcoholics really a chosen people?

Having gone through a major portion of my own life as a heavy drinker, and having been given the opportunity to embrace and develop a new way of life through the Anonymous program, I can readily understand the prompting of Mr. Ousler's remark. But the Question, itself, certainly does merit careful attention.

Searching examination, contemplation of the underlying thought-processes, and an analysis of suggested "steps to recovery" of the Alcoholic's program, revealed a startling fact: that the Anonymous Fellowship as a whole, their "processing" in its entirety, was, in itself, but a step . . . A step toward self-realization of Spiritual Truth.

So the answer to Fulton Ousler's question is both 'yes" and "no". Yes, Alcoholics are a chosen people, in that their Anonymous fellowship is the first and only organized opportunity ever offered to any portion of mankind, based upon Absolute Truth, which is concerned . . . not with any kind of "happy hereafter" . . . but with a happy today, which doesn't seek to make the world a better place to live in . . . but to make ourselves better persons to live in the world.

And then again . . . no, Alcoholics are not a chosen people for the same basic perception of Spiritual Truth that underlies their successful progress is available to all of us. It can and should be applied to many of the other types of problems that cause unhappiness and personal misery in the world.

Which leads to the reason for my having written this appeal. I would like to see established, through the media of this newspaper, a Clinic . . . The Clinic of Sierra Madre . . .

The Clinic of Sierra Madre would eventually develop into series of group meetings, where the many varied types of our problems could be examined and analyzed with the purpose of determining whether they lend themselves to treatment through application of measures similar to those used so effectively by the Alcoholic.

Such a project, however, must have its inception in a more modest way . . . a way in which the management and editor of the Sierra Madre NEWS generously have offered their aid.

In all respects, it is very fitting and proper that our city of Sierra Madre should be the home, the originating point of this worthy effort, inasmuch as we are the only community of like size in southern California, perhaps in the whole nation, which does not have a "group" of the Alcoholic's fellowship.

As a beginning, here is what I propose. Should any one who reads this feel that any quirk of mind or defect of character is causing you undue unhappiness, or preventing you from enjoying life to the fullest extent, write to me, care of the Sierra Madre News.

I will make personal contact with as many of you as possible, and will answer the rest by mail. We will discuss problems, explore and analyze, and try to treat for the betterment of your happiness.

No problem may be too big or too small . . . selfishness, uncontrolled temper or jealousy, soul - searing hatred, gambling, narcotics, etc. . . . they all detract from your full enjoyment of life.

I might assure you that no names of persons will be divulged, unless so wished. The logic of anonymity is extremely wise.

Each edition of the Sierra Madre News will carry an account of the progress of our Clinic of Sierra Madre, along with a detailed resume and treatment of interesting problems.

Once the Clinic of Sierra Madre proves its effectiveness, it is entirely within the realm of possibility that our work will spread, branch out to perform its usefulness elsewhere. In any event, I am willing to devote my time and effort, if you who read this will but respond with your own cooperation.

Court Fines Girl Who Left Disabled Car in Intersection

A 17-year-old girl was fined $5 Saturday for leaving her disabled car parked in the intersection of Alta Vista and Woodland Drive.

The girl was represented in court by her father who explained that the car's transmission failed to disengage, making it impossible for her to move the car. The auto was left there most of the night.

Services for J. A. Hailey 2 p.m. Today

Funeral services will be conducted today at Bethany Church, 2 p.m., for John Allen Hailey, 600 W. Sierra Madre boulevard, who died suddenly Monday, Aug. 13, while at work in Los Angeles.

Mr. Hailey owned the barbershop at 1302 E. Seventh street.

A resident of Sierra Madre for 15 years, and of California 20 years, Mr. Hailey was a native of Harrisonburg, Louisiana. He was a member of the Master Barbers' Association and of the Sierra Madre Bethany Church, where he was financial secretary.

Mr. Hailey is survived by his wife, Mattie; two daughters, Marilyn and Joanne, all of Sierra Madre; his mother, Mrs. Albert B. Hailey, two brothers, Travis and Mike, all of Shreveport, La.; two brothers, Clyde and James M., of Harrisonburg; a sister, Mrs. Sally Hudson of Columbia, La.

The Rev. Don B. Rood will officiate over the funeral services this afternoon. Interment will be at Forest Lawn Cemetery. Grant Chapel is in charge of arrangements.

FRED LALONE, Sierra Madre Post Office employee (far right), played vital role in dramatic rescue last week of Walter Weirich, 17-year-old Pasadena hiker who lay injured in Bailey Canyon for three days. Mr. Lalone, who estimates he put in 10 hours searching, not counting the actual rescue operation, worked as a team most of the time with Larry Shepherd, another employee at the local Post Office. Fatigue is shown clearly on the features of Mr. LaLone (above) as he carries the front end of the stretcher on its perilous route to safety. The Sierra Madrean says he lost 11 pounds during the 4½-hour rescue trip. —Los Angeles Times Photo

MEAD CONTINUES IN PASADENA MUNICIPAL COURT

Sierra Madre's city judge, John C. Mead, has been assigned to Pasadena municipal court until Oct. 23.

Judge Mead, master of Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. and A.M., will preside in Pasadena —in addition to his local duties —until a third municipal judge is assigned Pasadena.

During the month of July, Judge Mead also served there as the vacation replacement for Judge William Fox.

FRED LALONE DESCRIBES SEARCH, RESCUE OF HIKER

"It was the worst beating I ever took in all my life," said Fred LaLone in describing the torturous rescue and descent last week with the injured Pasadena hiker, Walter Weirich.

Mr. LaLone, whose mountain-climbing abilities make his friends fondly describe him as a "human mountain goat," lost 11 pounds during the 4½ hours of the actual rescue operation.

"It was just one cliff after another," the Sierra Madre Post Office employee related. Mr. LaLone reportedly refused to surrender to anyone the responsibility of carrying the front end of the stretcher and its precious cargo.

"Most of the other men of the rescue party had been searching all day and were tired," he explained. "I was still fairly fresh and, for fear of having an accident, I stayed on the front."

Mr. LaLone said U. S. Forest Service Patrolman Rupert Pole and Leslie McCloud, former patrolman in this area, made the perilous trip much easier by clearing away the brush ahead of the stretcher-bearers.

The veteran outdoorsman also paid tribute to Fr. Isadore O'Reilly, C.P., of the Mater Dolorosa Retreat House, who made the trip at the request of Weirich's family. Had it been necessary, Father Isadore would have administered last rites for the youthful hiker.

"The priest took many, many chances and stayed right up there with us all the way," he stated.

In praise of the precise landing made on a narrow ledge by the helicopter pilot, Mr. LaLone said simply: "It was out of this world."

Accompanying Mr. LaLone during most of the preliminary searching Monday and Tuesday was another Sierra Madre PO employee, Larry Shepherd. Mr. Shepherd, active in recreation work here, only last week accepted the commander's gavel of the local VFW Post. "We acted as a team," Mr. LaLone explained.

At one point of the search, he said he narrowly missed death himself when a rattlesnake attempted to strike him at chest level. The rattler was lying on a ledge over which Mr. LaLone was climbing.

Mountain rescues are nothing new for Mr. LaLone, who estimates he has taken part in 22 during the past 20 years. These searches and rescues extend over an area from San Bernardino to Tujunga.

Meanwhile, the injured hiker, Weirich, was still under medical care at St. Luke Hospital this week. Although he is able to eat and is feeling much stronger, hospital attendants said he still has lapses to unconsciousness. He is off the "critical list," but still considered in serious condition.

Friendly

It has always seemed to us that our Cocker Spaniel comes about as close to being a living expression of the word "Friendly" as any creature we know.

He just seems to embody all those wonderful qualities the word implies —warmth, sincerity, helpfulness, and genuine concern for the other fellow.

We think those are pretty important qualities and that they should find constant expression, in our business no less than in our social lives. That is why we have made "Friendly" a watchword of this Savings institution.

W. S. Slade Dies at Home

Services were held in Arcadia yesterday for William Samuel Slade, 55 W. Highland, who died at his home Monday, Aug. 13, after an extended illness.

Born in London, England, in 1877, Mr. Slade had been a resident of Sierra Madre for 15 years.

He is survived by a son, Loring Jack Slade of Sierra Madre; two daughters, Mrs. Violet Banker of Oakland, and Mrs. Lucille Conant of Berkeley; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Frank Gibson, of the San Gabriel Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, officiated over the funeral services. Interment was at San Gabriel Cemetery.

Kiwanis Meeting Gives Way for 'Family Outing'

There was no regular noon luncheon of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday, members reporting only to the Woman's Clubhouse to sign the "round-table" roll call.

Instead of the meeting, Kiwanians and families got together Tuesday evening for their Family Outing picnic at Arcadia Park. Using aluminum foil furnished by the club, families prepared their food in the best-approved Boy Scout manner.

Swimming in the park pool preceded the supper, and Hi Jinks games followed it.

DEPOT —From page one

limited cash to install a concrete slab, toilets, and otherwise bring the building up to standards.

At this point, Mayor William A. Kinney asked:

"You realize that the building (city-owned) could not be used exclusively by the Sea Scouts or by any one organization?"

Mr. Peterson replied that the entire Lions Club realized that and would not expect sole rights.

The councilmen suggested that Mr. Peterson check with Mr. Watson and Building Inspector William Lees to see if the depot could be brought up to city standards.

"If it can meet the city ordinances, you can ask the Council Monday night for a decision on placing it on the water grounds," Mayor Kinney said.

Although the mayor indicated that he would favor allowing the structure to be moved there "if we can spare that much land," at least one councilman said he would oppose it.

"I'm ready to vote on the matter now," said Councilman Noren Eaton. " . . . There's alreaready been too much encroachment on the water grounds. Too many activities are being placed there with no overall plan. And, thirdly, the depot building is completely inadequate and not worth moving."

Councilman Lawrence Washburn said "at this point his vote would be a 'pass'," since he hasn't enough information yet.

The mayor suggested, however, that the Lions Club "take a look" at other city-owned land as possible sites for a remodeled building. He singled out the lot next to the city park and Bailey Canyon as possibilities.

After hearing views on constructing toilets as a part of the Kersting Court development, the council voted not to provide sewer laterals. The predominant opinion of citizens present was that the toilets would be undesirable and a menace.

Harold Roberts and Harold Stein, representing the Businessmen's Association, pledged their group's cooperation with the Lions Club by waiting till Monday night to see if the depot should be moved intact.

To speed up city action in constructing retaining walls and walkways for the triangle site, Councilman Eaton moved that Jacques Hahn's revised plans be reviewed by Mr. Watson and, if they are found to be in conformance with the rest of the street program, bids for the work be sought immediately—in time to be opened at the next regular meeting.

"That way, we can save three weeks time," he explained.

BUSINESSMEN'S LETTER— —From Page One

de la Torre, Lee Shippey, Alfred James Dewey and many, many others added something to the promise of beautification.

However, about a month ago there arose some opposition to the retention of the old station building in its present location. It had been planned to use the remodeled building as an office for the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. This person was also to act as custodian of art and other exhibits, and was to be an available source of information to newcomers and visitors to Sierra Madre. Then it became known that the Chamber of Commerce could no longer employ a full-time secretary. Thus, if the building were to be used as planned, it would be necessary for the city to provide a custodian. This appeared to be unfeasible.

Demands began to be made that if the old building were retained then the walls should be removed and it should be remodeled so as to become just an attractive shelter. Spearheaded by A. L. Suman, drawings began to appear which called for replacement of the station by a simple, artistic structure to be used primarily by persons waiting for a bus.

In line with this trend of thought, and following two informal preliminary meetings of a few business and professional men, the Businessmen's Association has formed a committee which will bring together a group of fifteen persons from whom all sorts of ideas may be expected and by whose executive members all proposals will be carefully screened before they are recommended for adoption.

This committee consists of Harold F. Roberts, chairman; Mrs. Margaret Nash, Sam Perlof and V. Hall for the business group; and C. Jacques Hahn, landscape architect; Manuel de la Torre, builder; and Mac Cason, architect. Advisers to the committee are A. L. Suman, Don Jackson, Ralph Welch, Murray Owen, Peter Ward, J. C. Loomis Jr. and Harold Stein.

To further coordinate the activities of the triangle development committee we wish to have added to it a member of the Planning Commission to act in an advisory capacity. If you have no objection, we will ask them to appoint one of their members to sit with us.

We hope you will understand that this committee of the Businessmen's Association has no intention of usurping any of the prerogatives of your honorably body; that its purpose is solely to provide constructive, thoroughly-screened advice and plans for an already overworked City Council; and above all, we especially hope that because of its carefully chosen personnel and its unselfish aims, the committee will merit your official recognition.

Respectfully yours,
SIERRA MADRE BUSINESSMEN'S ASSOCIATION
Harold Stein, President.

MORAL REBIRTH

reported to be inviting the heads of many Sierra Madre organizations to a conference on further implementing the stirring message of the creed in the community where it originated.

Robert Fuoss, managing editor of the Saturday Evening Post, has written to Sierra Madre that he has read "The Creed" with "great interest." He will be supplied with other developments as they occur.

U. S. Senator J. W. Fulbright, having heard of the movement which has started in Sierra Madre, writes: "I congratulate you on the efforts in your community. After all, what progress is made will depend on what is done at the local level throughout the country."

German Team Visits Sierra Engineering

A three-hour "bull session" was held at Sierra Engineering Company Friday, as the team of six German specialists visited the local plant.

John E. Conzelman, vice-president, Dr. Frank Page, chief engineer, and other executives of the local company conversed with the German experts on prosthetics and orthopedic devices.

"They were swell fellows and very competent," said Mr. Conzelman following the session. "They asked us what they wanted to know, got their answers, then left."

The Germans are visiting various plants, hospitals and laboratories in the United States as guests of the U. S. Economic Cooperation Administration. Sierra Engineering was one of four places in Southern California visited by the Germans. In Sierra Madre,

Bethany Pastor Home From Trip

Don Rood, pastor of Bethany Church, is home from a very successful eastern trip. He spoke in a series of meetings at Medicine Lake Camp in Minnesota and returned to Sierra Madre last Saturday.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Mr. Rood will be speaking on the subject, "The Greatest Need in the Church." The evening service will feature special music as well as a message by Mr. Rood.

The Christian Endeavor, meeting at 6:30, will welcome 14 Junior High School members back from their vacation at Tahquitz Pines, the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor camp which is located two miles from Idyllwild. Thirteen High School young people leave this Saturday for a week of conferences and vacation at Tahquitz.

Another poor guess—I guess I can beat him to the intersection.

'Black-Top' Work Due On Streets

"Black-topping" operations in Sierra Madre's downtown street improvement program should begin early next week, Gene Holabird, construction foreman of Warren Southwest Inc., disclosed Tuesday.

Mr. Holabird's announcement indicates that an end of the business section's "dustbowl" condition is near at hand.

The foreman said the laying of concrete curbs and gutters should be completed by today or tomorrow.

"We're still right on schedule and should finish well within the Sept. 4 deadline," Mr. Holabird said.

SKUNK "SURGERY"

the skunk iself," she said, "was enough to make my tenants very ill."

Mrs. Ryan said she believed the boys already have killed two other skunks attempting this operation.

For the good of her tenants —not to mention the skunks— wasn't there some regulation prohibiting such experiments? the woman inquired.

After poring through his ordinances, Chief of Police Gordon G. McMillan said he couldn't find a specific law on the subject, but suggested the Humane Society might be interested in such goings-on.

Auxiliary Plans Fashion Show

Plans are going ahead this week for the Nursery School Auxiliary's annual Fashion Show Tea, scheduled for Friday, Oct. 5, at the home of Mrs. James Sheldon Riley, 1160 W. Orange Grove, Arcadia.

Co-chairman for the event will be Mrs. G. G. Baumen and Mrs. George Barnett. Proceeds from the Fashion Show will be turned over to the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School

Gerke Wins $3500, Car In Contest

"Christmas" came in August for Richard Carl Gerke, son of the C. H. Gerkes, 602 Mariposa.

The former Sierra Madrean, who now lives at 33 Primrose, Alhambra, won second place in the Times-Mirror "criss-cross" puzzle contest.

His prizes included $3500 in cash and a brand new car. In addition, Gerke received $3000 extra because he obtained subscriptions.

Subtracting approximately $1500 as taxes, that leaves Gerke about $5000 richer than he was last week at this time. He plans to use the money as a down payment on a new house.

Invited last week to go to the Times-Mirror building for pictures, Gerke knew then that he had won "something" in the contest. It was not until Sunday, however, while he was attending an International Toastmasters' meeting in San Diego, that it was announced he was the second-place winner.

As a combined victory celebration and birthday party for his mother, Mrs. C. H. Gerke, a luncheon was presented Monday by his wife's mother, Mrs. Harry Linendoll of Pasadena. The event was held at Gerke's Alhambra home.

DALLAS, TEXAS, GUEST IN CORONET

Miss Beverley Fairchilds of Dallas, Texas, is the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Graves, who resides with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Pruitt of 3810 Cartwright in the Coronet area.

—WITH AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATING

✓ It's 3 times faster!
✓ You spend less to operate!
✓ You spend less to install!

Here's minimum size AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER your family needs:

Number Bathrooms	Number Bedrooms	Gallons Storage
1	1 or 2	30
1	3 or 4	40
2	2 or 3	40
2	4 or 5	50
3	3	50
3 or 4	4 or 5	75

Approved by Pacific Coast Gas Assn.

Stop and think... how many times a day do you wash your hands? You need hot water every time for real cleanliness... and you get it when you heat water with gas. For gas is always on the job... heats water three times faster than any other practical fuel. It easily keeps ahead of the demands of an automatic clothes washer, dishwasher and growing family. Gas works for so little money... is such a bargain you never have to be sparing in your use of hot water.

Is your present heater adequate for your needs? The chart at left gives recommended sizes and should be your guide when selecting a new automatic gas water heater for your present home or when you build. See any dealer or your Gas Company, and learn how much less a new automatic gas water heater costs to buy and install.

Final Cohan Play to Open August 23

Flashing finale to the Midsummer Drama Festival series of George M. Cohan plays at Pasadena Playhouse will be "Broadway Jones," an all-time Cohan hit, slated from Aug. 23 to Sept. 2 as the series climax.

The fast and funny yarn tells of one jaded Jones, man-about-Manhattan who gets tangled up with an inherited gum factory. To his initial despair this chicle plant is not on his beloved Broadway, but far off in Connecticut and in a small town, at that.

Julia Farnsworth and Philip Van Dyke are co-directors for the Playhouse staging. "Pigeons and People," current Cohan comedy, closes its run Sunday, Aug. 19.

YOUNG BOYS DAMAGE CAR OF MAYOR'S SON

Four local boys, all 10 years of age, were placed on "voluntary probation" last week following their malicious mischief involving a car belonging to the mayor's son.

Police said the youthful quartet readily admitted they were the culprits who threw bottles and stones through the windows of young William Kinney's automobile last Thursday afternoon.

The car was parked in the back yard of the William A. Kinney home, 695 W. Sierra Madre boulevard. Members of the Kinney household were away on vacation last week.

The vandalism was reported by a neighbor, Mrs. Joe Vasi, 718 W. Montecito. Chief of Police Gordon G. McMillan said the boys were released to their parents following promises by each to pay his share of the damage. All but one of the youngsters live in Sierra Madre, the fourth being a resident of Pasadena.

Some Pumpkins at L.A. County Fair

Despite its magnitude which has won for it the distinction of being the largest county fair in America, Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona, Sept. 14-30, is still an old time county fair and what would an old time county fair be without its prize pumpkins? Here pretty Nancy Nixon is displaying one of the prize entries in the huge palace of agriculture which will be filled with the choicest products of orchard, field and garden.

YMCA DAY CAMP ENDS

The most successful day camp in the short history of Santa Anita District YMCA day camping will conclude tomorrow, Aug. 17. This will mark the last of a six-week program offered by the YMCA.

Attendance has averaged 105 boys and girls—including several from Sierra Madre—during each of the weekly periods.

ADULT CLASS SKEDS READY

Revised schedules of day and evening classes for adults are now available at the Pasadena City College Extended Day Office, Albert V. Bean, coordinator of the program, announced yesterday.

Evening registration for credit classes begin on Sept. 4 in the Extended Day Office, Room 140, center building at PCC. Classes begin during the week of Sept. 10.

Mr. Bean said educational opportunities for adults are available in the fields of business, distributive education, engineering and technology, English, graphic and clothing arts, language, life science, mathematics, music, parent education, physical education, physical science, and trade extension. More than 300 separate classes are available.

MRS. VAN ARSDALE RETURNS FROM TRIP

Mrs. Valerie Van Arsdale returned to Sierra Madre recently from a two-months' trip to the Pacific Northwest. She visited relatives in Vancouver, Victoria, British Columbia and Seattle.

Mrs. Van Arsdale has been companion to Mrs. E. G. Everett while the Captain is attending a reunion in Minneapolis this month.

Cities Declared Critical Defense Housing Areas

John E. McGovern, district director for the Federal Housing Administration, announces that Lancaster, Palmdale and Mojave, California, area and vicinity have been declared a critical defense housing area under the defense housing program for relaxation of credit restrictions.

The housing is for in-migrant employees or personnel of defense establishments at Edwards Air Force Base, Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, Mojave Navy Air Field.

The program consists of a total of 200 units, of which 100 are for rent and 100 for sale.

Mr. McGovern states that application blanks to qualify for the defense housing quota may be obtained from the Federal Housing Administration offices at 112 W. Ninth Street, Los Angeles 15, California.

BADGERS REMINDED OF STATE PICNIC

Former residents and tourists from the "Badger State," Wisconsin, are reminded of the all-day reunion of their state society by Oscar Redemann, president.

Date of the picnic has been set for Saturday, Aug. 25. The place: Sycamore Grove Park in Los Angeles.

Johnsons End 5000-Mile Trailer Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Johnson, 585 W. Grandview, last week ended a 5000-mile trailer trip through several states and into Canada.

The Johnsons—plus their three dogs—were away from Sierra Madre nearly five weeks and included on their itinerary stops at Flagstaff, Raton Pass, Denver, Yellowstone, Glacier National Park, Seattle, and several cities along the west coast.

They traveled some 40 miles into Canada but, as Mr. Johnson puts it, "we turned back because of the lousy roads." The former city planning commissioner remarked that Canadian border officials—although reputed to be strict on regulations governing the entrance of dogs—allowed the entry of his three canines with only the admonition to keep them on leash.

Weather conditions throughout the trip were excellent, he said, with only one rainstorm being encountered in Wyoming.

Mr. Johnson said he was impressed by the fact that the trailer parks become proportionately poorer as the traveler drives farther east.

Another interesting observation the Sierra Madreans made was that workers on large construction projects live "on the job" in trailers with their families. He surmised that the companies use their trucks to haul the jumbo-sized trailers since no passenger car could manage the burden.

Man Pleads Guilty In Battery Case

Richard LaLone, 1235 S. 10th street, Arcadia, was awaiting sentence late yesterday afternoon following his guilty plea to charges of assault and battery.

A misdemeanor warrant had been issued for LaLone Saturday after he allegedly "poked the jaw" of a local man during a parking dispute.

His victim, Thomas J. Morrow, 46, 311 Auburn, received a bruise and welt from the blow, and signed a complaint at police headquarters. LaLone was said to have charged that Morrow's car was parked too close to his in front of Happy's Liquor Store, 12 W. Sierra Madre boulevard. Morrow countered that there was approximately one foot distance between the two cars. The blow was struck in the liquor store.

PHILIP JACOBS WINS HONOR AT DAY CAMP

Philip Jacobs, 10-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Jacobs, 454 Mariposa, was proclaimed the "outstanding camper" at Wakoda Lodge during council fire ceremonies Saturday night.

Young Philip was presented the camp's branded leather award for his achievements while participating in the camp program. The presentation was made by Chief Iron Eyes, star of the Tim McCoy television show.

Philip and his brother, Paul, plan to go away to a mountain camp this week.

FREE meals every so often!

you can do it, too... with an electric home food freezer

NOTHING ELSE IS SUCH A HELP to a strained food budget as a family meal at no cost. Especially when it's a tasty and delicious meal that everyone enjoys.

Oh yes, there are ways it can be done—with an electric home food freezer to help.

Take the fishing trip "catch" or the hunting trip "bag." Stored away in your home freezer, it will keep safely for months. And the same thing with garden produce—you can keep it fresh and delicious for as long as a year.

Here's another tip: Store up those leftover portions of meat in your freezer. Save them until you have enough for salads, sandwiches or delicious meat pies. You can even save gravies.

Food prices being what they are, it takes a free meal now and then to make ends meet. Or you can let the savings pay for your freezer. It's as easy as that—so why wait? See your dealer now!

Here's Text Of Merchants' Letter to City

(Here's text of the letter received by city councilmen Tuesday night from the Sierra Madre Businessmen's Association, outlining that group's four proposals for the development of the old station triangle. All but Point 3 of the suggestions were adopted by the councilmen, either in whole or in part. A decision on Point 4 is expected at Monday night's adjourned meeting.)

Sierra Madre City Council,
Gentlemen:

At a meeting of the Sierra Madre Businessmen's Association attended by thirty-five persons representing Sierra Madre's downtown business houses, those present voted unanimously to request of your honorable body the following action regarding the so-called Pacific Electric triangle:

1. That the basic engineering and landscaping plan previously submitted by C. Jacques Hahn be officially approved, if this has not already been done, and that the City Clerk be instructed to immediately advertise for bids covering same in order that sidewalks, retaining walls and other essential primary improvements may be completed at a date that will coincide as nearly as possible with the completion of the street work now being done.

2. That no sewer laterals or connections be provided for the triangle area, it being the firm opinion of the business group that public rest rooms there would constitute a menace, an expense and an obligation that would far outweigh any advantage that might be gained therefrom.

3. That the present structure be removed to the city water works property to provide additional housing now said to be needed for youth activities.

4. That should no plan for immediate removal of the station to the water works property be presented to the City Council which in its opinion would be legal, financially sound and otherwise feasible, then the Businessmen's Association, if so authorized by the Council, will immediately undertake to dismantle and dispose of the Pacific Electric station without cost to the city.

The Association's stand on this last point was verified by its vice-president in a last-minute poll of virtually all Sierra Madre businessmen.

We hope the suggestions contained herein will receive an attentive ear; also that they may prove to be of some value to you in your deliberations regarding this controversial problem.

Respectfully yours,
Sierra Madre Businessmen's Association
Harold Stein, President

Justice Triumphs In 'Escape' Case

Justice will triumph. At least it did in this case, Judge John C. Mead reported this week.

Several months ago, a Bennie Lopez was sentenced to 30 days in jail or $150 on a drunk charge in Sierra Madre. Not having the $150 and also not wishing to languish in jail, Lopez offered to work off the fine at $5 a day with the city street department.

Judge Mead agreed, but Lopez only worked four or five days before staging a disappearing act. The city judge regretfully wrote the case off as "one of those things."

The other day in Pasadena's municipal court, with Judge Mead on the bench, who should approach the bar but Lopez—again arrested on a drunk charge.

"His mouth sagged almost a foot when he saw me presiding," Judge Mead related. "I promptly considered the time due Sierra Madre when making Lopez' Pasadena jail sentence."

Since his Sierra Madre offense, Lopez had been jailed on similar charges in Pasadena and Los Angeles, Judge Mead said.

MENTAL STIMULUS

Dr. S. D. Bacon, Yale Univ. Summer School of Alcohol Studies, says the public has been aroused through reports from the lower courts on the number of crimes committed by persons under the influence of alcohol, by references to the damage done to public morals through alcoholic beverage advertising, and by the enormous amount of the national income which is spent on alcoholic beverages. (Christian Science Monitor)

This is information which the Dry Forces all over the country have been trying to get to the public consciousness for a long time.

If alcoholic beverages are so destructive, what is in the beverage which destroys? Alcohol. But alcohol is the narcotic (scientific medical knowledge) which the user of alcoholic beverages has grown to like. Take it out of the beverage and you destroy this narcotic habit. This is something which people everywhere are slow to grasp, but the growing trend towards abolition of the liquor traffic (beer and wine are also narcotics and included in the phrase "liquor traffic"), would indicate that the public is arousing itself from its lethargy.

The growing interest in a return to moral and ethical principles would also indicate the awakening which is taking place.

Look . . . Hear, Now!

BY STUART and JANE HEINEMAN

Now it comes! KLAC-TV is reported to have settled out of court the $800,000 judgment against the station for the alleged similarity of its "Wedding Bells" program to radio's "Bride & Groom." By deciding against an appeal, the station opens wide the door for a score of plagiarism suits among all stations and networks.

From a station standpoint, KLAC-TV may have been wise to obtain a final high decision on just how much show ideas may be protected against infringement. But, Hollywood observers said today, the no-contest decision should not be allowed by the industry in general because it settles nothing.

Watch, they said, for possible plagiarism suits against many of the top radio and television shows from coast to coast.

Radio's only attempt to answer television—NBC'S "The Big Show"—prepares for another season. Tallulah Bankhead, producer-director Doc Englebach, musical director Meredith Willson and other top brass are London-bound to prepare for the opening show. The troupe will do two programs from London at the Palladium—September 30 and October 7—then return to New York.

This year Hollywood originates a greater share of "The Big Show" than last season. This is good news for the hundreds who tried unsuccessfully to get tickets for the few stands the show played at Sunset and Vine.

* * * * *

It doesn't pay to be generous—on television. Witness Pierre, who runs a popular San Marino restaurant. As a guest on Mike Roy's Kitchen, Pierre casually mentioned that he would gladly give a set of four skewers to anyone wishing them. We saw him three days later almost crying; he had been deluged already with more than 4000 requests. . . Observed disc jockey Bob McLaughlin in a new role: producer and director of the Les Anderson Show. Claims he now has found his right niche in TV. He revealed that before coming to KLAC he had been—of all things—a motorcycle policeman! . . . Tennessee Ernie, usually in the best of humor, was seen moping around the "Hometown Jamboree" set with a face as long as Buster Keaton's. He finally admitted his problem: It looked like his planned vacation trip to Hawaii was going to interfere with his deer hunting. Some fellows have all the bad luck!

* * * * *

Eddie Silverman came off the set of his KTSL "It's a Neat Trick" wiping both his brow and his pocket. He had played the entire show with a broken egg in his coat pocket—but no one in the audience suspected anything. Eddie managed to steal another egg from backstage and complete his trick of changing a silk handkerchief into an egg. "In this business," he complained, "you can never predict what will happen." During daylight hours the TV magician is a mail carrier in Pasadena; he delivers on a little gasoline scooter. . . . Prop men on the "Meet Corliss Archer" set were stumped when the episode called for several fishing poles. Producer Helen Mack knew just the place to get them. "At my house," she volunteered. "There are four fisherman in our family—my husband, our two sons . . . and me!" . . . Tim Moore, Kingfish on TV's "Amos 'n' Andy," likes to entertain offstage with tales of his experience as a prizefighter and sparring partner for the great Joe Gans. One night before an exhibition, Gans asked Tim: "Is your girl out there watching?" "Yeah," Moore said. "Okay, 'Ill let you tag me with a couple." A few minutes later, Tim found himself sitting on the floor of the ring. "I forgot to tell you," explained Gans later. "My girl was out there too."

* * * * *

Only sure-fire way to make sportscaster Bill Welsh lose his calm is to make a noise like a fire truck. His inveterate fire-chasing paid off recently when he raced a fire truck out Ventura and was able to help the fireman, who had a short crew, drag hose up to a burning house. He proudly showed us the letter of appreciation he later received from the fire department.

* * * * *

Klaus Landsberg apparently has made his station so economy-conscious that announcer Stan Chambers reacted subconsciously when a skater on "Frosty Frolics" bumped into a prop fence on the show and broke a flower pot. "Oh, oh," said Chambers, "that cost 89 cents!" . . . It's happening every week—in television. Patricia Ann Harding, an amateur winner on KTLA's "Hollywood Opportunity," was seen by some executives at Paramount who were watching the program. The result: a contract with the studio.
